Channel Metadata

Channels can be assigned metadata, which includes standard and custom metadata. If your account is set up to provide metadata in multiple languages, you will see a drop-down menu in the top right corner for selecting a metadata localization set to edit. For more information about metadata localization sets, see the Metadata Localization chapter of the movingimage Administration Manual.

To edit the metadata for a channel, follow these steps:

- 1. Click the [
- 2. Click the [] button.
- 3. The channel edit area will open, pushing the video list to the right.

- 4. Now you can update the channel's metadata using the fields provided. See the tables below for details.
- 5. To close the edit area, click the [] button again or anywhere outside of the edit area.

The Channel edit area shows both standard and custom channel metadata:

Standard Metadata:
Name:	Enter the desired channel title (255 character limit).
Description:	Enter a short description of this channel (5000 character limit).

Custom Channel Metadata:

Your administrator may have applied custom channel metadata fields that can be edited as well. These fields come in a variety of types, editable in the following ways:

Data Type	Use	Example
