

Login / Single Sign-on (SSO)

CorporateTube can be linked to your company's Active Directory, enabling Single Sign-on (SSO), which means you can log into CorporateTube using the same credentials you use for your company accounts. The login page may look something like this:

The URL for your login page might look something like this:

`https://<YOUR_COMPANY_NAME>.corporate.tube`

CorporateTube can be used with custom domains, meaning your company's URL may look different from the example above. If you don't know your login URL, contact your company administrators or movingimage Professional Services.

Upon login, you will be taken to the CorporateTube home page.
