

Player Generator

Before publishing a video, you can individualize the appropriate player for streaming and adapt it to suit your needs. For this purpose, the "Player Generator" area is available. To access, select the "Player Generator" from the selection menu.

To be able to access the area "Player Generator", you need the appropriate rights.

The Player Generator user interface is divided into functional sections that are described in the following.

	Area	Description
1	Navigation	The navigation is located in the left pane of the browser window. All existing players are listed here. You can also add or remove players here.
2	Player preview	In this area, you will see the customized design of already established players. New customized players will be published by the "Apply" function.
3	Editing area	The editing area is located on the right side of the browser window. Here you can adjust the color scheme, controls and other settings to the player.
